The screenshot shows the Google Workspace Marketplace page for the "Colaboratory" add-on by "colab-team". A large orange speech bubble with the word "INSTALE" is overlaid on the "Install" button. The main content area displays the "Welcome To Colaboratory" interface, which includes a "What is Colaboratory?" section with a bulleted list of features: "Zero configuration required", "Free access to GPUs", and "Easy sharing". Below this is a "Getting started" section with a code cell containing Python code to calculate seconds in a day.

The screenshot shows a "File" menu in Google Drive with a "review" item. A circular callout highlights the "Open with" option, which is circled in the original image. A "DONE" button is at the bottom right. The text above the menu says "Colaboratory has been installed!" and "Where to find Colaboratory". It also states "You can find Colaboratory by choosing "Open with" in Drive:" followed by a screenshot of the "Open with" dropdown menu.
